

Ridiculously Good Stories for Rainy Days

Dear Diary,
 I DID IT! I got expelled! Finally, I can go to a real school, with real boys. I'm so excited! But, as always, my parents are not happy at all. I'll just have to try and be good for them, for once. But sometimes I wish I hadn't done all those bad things. It made me feel bad and everyone was angry with me. Miss Penora, Mrs Smellon, Mum, Dad and I were angry with myself sometimes. But things could have been a lot worse. I got off easy. In my new school, I'm going to be as good as I can be and never be bad again. Being bad doesn't feel right. It's not fun.

Dear Diary,
 Today was GREAT. I didn't write the date on my work and had to do lines. But guess what - I didn't write the date on that either! Oh and I somehow made the toilets flood, set off the fire alarm and made all the flowers wilt. I'm not expelled yet but I'm sure I will be soon. I'll just have to wait and see.
